The Solution

BackBox offered the only solution in the market that could provide such flexibility and support all the different security solutions that Leumi Card needed to backup. The versatility of the BackBox offering enabled Leumi Card to add a new security device that wasn't originally supported within minutes. The simple, easy to use functionality meant that Leumi Card did not require additional assistance from the device vendor or integrator; saving time, money and dedicated resource.

The Results

BackBox successfully provided Leumi Card with a solution that facilitated an easy way to automate disaster recovery for all their security and network devices. BackBox also ensured that all of Leumi Card's network solutions were securely backed up with little to no maintenance required.

About BackBox

BackBox provides a single, centralized solution to manage all network and security device backups, ensuring that the recovery process always begins from the same location. Backups are protected by a state-of-the-art infrastructure to ensure that no critical configurations are compromised.
